

MILLER, INDIANA
by Raymond (Bud) Gray

July 23, 2005

I want to go back home again
To visit yesterday,
But time has changed so many things
And I have lost my way.

I want to see old faces,
Hear voices I once knew.
Walk down Memory Lane once more
And live those days anew.

I want to go back to Miller, Indiana,
But only in my dreams...
To youthful, carefree, happy days
And quiet small town scenes.

I want to be a kid once more...
Go to Jack-Spratts for a "nickle" cone...
Visit "Ma Todd's" for some penny candy..
And be safe just walking home.

I want to swim and fish at Carr's Beach...
Swim at the B. A. B. on the lagoon.
Do all the things of yesterday
That time has ended too soon.

I want to go back to Miller, Indiana
Where each day was a joy to live,
But only in my dreams,
For I have no youth to give.
